This teen will no longer have to sell her body ... thanks to you!

You helped Jub escape a life of abuse by giving her a safe place to live and learn

Jub was just a young teenager when she had to drop out of school and begin working at a bar in Thailand to support herself. "I didn't have a life like the other girls my age," Jub said. "I had a hard life."

Still, Jub, who requested we change her name for privacy, felt like she was a financial burden to her impoverished parents and needed to do more. So, at 17-years-old, she moved all by herself to the big city.

Like so many other girls from Thailand's rural villages, she saw the city's booming bars as an opportunity to earn more money. However, they end up selling more than just alcohol ... they end up selling their bodies, too. Many women end up working in the red-light district until they are too old or too sick from sexually transmitted diseases to go on.

By God's grace, though, Jub had only been working in the city for a few months before our partners found her and offered her a way out.

Your gift allowed Jub to come live at a Freedom Home where girls can recover, learn, and discover God's purpose for their lives. Jub is now taking online classes so she can finish her education and follow her dream of becoming a flight attendant. She is also learning about Jesus from the caring staff.

"I feel good that I have Jesus in my life," Jub said, "because when I'm weary or lonely, Jesus is with me and helps me not to give up."

Jub now has hope, a future, and a personal relationship with Jesus!

Not only have you helped rescue girls like Jub from a life in the sex industry, but you have also helped introduce them to the Gospel, too. Thank you!

YOU helped provide food and freedom!

Instead of starving, Brayan is now dreaming about his future!

You gave this malnourished toddler the nutrition and treatment he needed

When 4-year-old Brayan came down with a fever, his mother knew something was wrong. His thin arms were already practically skin and bones, and his ribs were becoming more visible. The high fever was the last straw.

Brayan's mother rushed him to a clinic, where the staff discovered his extreme malnutrition had weakened his immune system. He was now suffering from a severe case of pneumonia on top of starvation.

Unfortunately, Brayan's parents had no way of helping him. His father makes only about $5 per day working in the Guatemalan fields. They certainly couldn't afford any medical bills.

That's where YOU came in! Thanks to your support, our partners were able to bring Brayan to the Guatemala Rescue Center and begin treating him at no cost to the family!

Eventually, Brayan was strong enough to go home. He had gained almost 12 pounds, his pneumonia was gone, and he was no longer suffering. He still comes back to the Rescue Center every month, though, to receive checkups and make sure he is still healthy and growing.

Brayan is so thankful for the love and care he receives from the medical staff. In fact, he now wants to be a doctor himself someday! Thank you for giving children like Brayan the chance to dream about their futures.

You helped rescue Glendy from the brink of death

Glendy looks like a totally different little girl after receiving the help she needed!

The doctor took one look at Glendy and realized why the 1-year-old seemed so restless and irritated. "She should eat more," he said. Now, thanks to you, Glendy is receiving plenty of nutritious food so she can grow strong and stay healthy.

After that first doctor's visit, Glendy's mom took her daughter home with a heavy heart. She knew she and her husband had no way of giving their daughter the food she needed. Neither of them had more than an elementary education, so it was difficult to find a well-paying job in their Guatemalan village.

The family ate solely tortillas and beans almost every day because that's all they could afford. Glendy's mother was so deprived of nutrients herself that her body couldn't produce enough milk to feed Glendy.

Your gift made it possible for our partners to rush to Glendy's village, and bring her to a special Rescue Center to heal.

Glendy stayed at the center for about a month. During that time, she received daily treatment, nutrition, and rehab. The staff also helped her mom put together a plan to ensure Glendy would continue to receive the nutrients she needed when she returned home.

The staff at the Rescue Center always look forward to seeing Glendy at her follow-up checkups. She now a happy, chubby toddler full of personality instead of the stick-thin crying little girl they first met.

Thanks to you, Glendy's life has been totally transformed!

THANK YOU FOR BEING A WORLD CHANGER!

A personal note from Noel Brewer Yeatts:

Your gift means the world to the people you have helped! That's what I want you to take away from the stories you are about to read.

Because of your generosity, children like Brayan and Glendy are no longer hungry! They can actually dream about their futures and live happy, healthy lives. And young women like Jub don't have to sell their bodies to survive. You've given them another option ... one where they can get an education and pursue a career they love.

Every dollar you've given has had a direct impact on someone's life, meeting urgent physical needs and showing them the love of Christ.

Thank you for being the hands and feet of Jesus to people in need worldwide.
