

YOU GAVE ENTIRE COMMUNITIES ACCESS TO CLEAN WATER

Thank you for providing clean water to men, women, and children around the world.

Water is the source of life ... but it's something that people in impoverished communities often don't have access to. Sometimes the nearest water source is miles away – and most times, it's not clean. Every year, countless people living in poverty fall victim to deadly waterborne diseases.

Through your generosity, though, families now have clean water to drink, cook, and clean with!

Here are two testimonies to give you a glimpse at the impact of your life-changing gift:

RIZIKI: “IT IS A MIRACLE”

Riziki is a single mom living with her two beautiful children in Tanzania. Until recently, most of her time was taken up by walking almost two miles to the nearest water well. Lugging back all the water she could carry for another two miles home was exhausting.

And the water she retrieved wasn't even clean! Many people in her community were getting sick with diseases like cholera from using it. But it was their only option – and it was a time-consuming one, too. Between fetching water and caring for her children, Riziki had no extra time to get a job to support her family. She felt hopeless and defeated.

That's when generous donors like you stepped in to provide a clean water well for Riziki and her entire community right near her home!

Riziki and her family now have plenty of clean water and don't have to worry about waterborne diseases!

“[Before], I was looking at my kids and saw no future,” Riziki said. “It is a miracle we now see the light and hope that we have tomorrow.”

When you give people like Riziki access to clean water, you radically transform all areas of their lives. Now that she no longer makes long journeys for water, Riziki found a job in a brick factory to earn an income. She even grows her own vegetables to feed her family now that there is enough water to care for a garden.

Thank you for helping people around the world, like Riziki, by giving them clean water.

JAGRAM: SURVIVING A DROUGHT

Jagram and his family are from a small village in India. For years the people of their community walked long distances to get their water. Sometimes it was a public well; other times, it was a nearby stream.

Then, the unthinkable happened – all the water dried up. Faced with a severe drought, the people didn't know what they were going to do. The stream and even the most distant wells were no longer an option. They were bone dry.

The people from Jagram's village cried out for somebody, anybody, to help them. Then, thanks to the generosity of World Help donors, a brand-new well was provided for Jagram and his community!

Now, this new deep, sustainable well provides water for Jagram and his family even in the driest seasons.

Jagram no longer needs to worry about where he will get water for his wife and two sons ... there's an endless supply right outside his door!

By giving the gift of clean water, you helped save lives in communities just like these.

THANK YOU!

