

YOU HELPED RESCUE GIRLS FROM THE SEX INDUSTRY

Thank you for giving during the Night of Freedom event to help prevent young girls from facing a life trapped in the sex industry! Your gift helped impact over 1,200 people by supporting the two Chiang Rai Children's Homes and the Concordia Daycare and Community Center in Thailand.

In Thailand, women are often expected to be the financial providers for their families ... but there are few educational opportunities for them. With no marketable skills, many are forced to sell their bodies to survive and feed their families. But thanks to your generosity, children at risk of being forced into sexual slavery will have another option. Because of you, they will be able to chase their dreams and experience the love of God.

Take a look at how your gift at Night of Freedom is already hard at work helping children in Thailand:

DUSITA: HAVING THE OPPORTUNITY TO DREAM

Dusita* has been impacted by the sex industry her whole life because her mother is a sex worker. Unfortunately, there are few job opportunities for women like Dusita's mom, so she works long hours in a factory during the day and in the sex industry at night to make ends meet.

Dusita's mom used to worry that when she had to leave

her daughter at home alone while she was working, Dusita was at risk of exploitation. Thankfully, generous people like you stepped in to help Dusita attend the Concordia Daycare and Community Center operated by World Help's partners in Thailand.

Because of gifts like yours, Dusita received help with her homework and a safe place to go and make new friends. Most importantly, she learned about Jesus and also that she doesn't have to follow in her mother's footsteps.

"My mom works every day, even when she is sick," Dusita said. "I intend to work hard in order to support my family and treat the sick."

Today, Dusita is a high school student with big dreams for the future – dreams that YOU helped put in reach.

She is getting ready to apply to college, where she hopes to get a degree in the medical field.

Thanks to you, girls like Dusita won't have to endure a lifetime of shame and abuse selling their bodies. By giving to prevent young girls from ever having to enter the sex industry in the first place, you provided them with help and hope for the future and helped them feel God's love.

A BRIGHT FUTURE AHEAD

The Concordia Center that Dusita attended and that your generous gift supported serves as a full-time daycare for 27 children. Plus, another 40 children between 6-17 years old attend on Saturdays and for lessons in subjects like math, English, computer, Bible, and art.

Education is also a major focus at the children's homes you helped support. The students go to school each day and receive additional help in reading and writing. They have the opportunity to attend a local church together and learn how to study the Bible, too.

The boys and girls at the children's homes participate in activities like cooking and gardening so they will know how to be self-sufficient when they graduate.

They even had the chance to attend an embroidery class this year, learning how to make traditional Thai handicrafts that they can sell.

During a recent school break, many also attended a special session about how to recognize the signs of exploitation and took a field trip to learn about the dangers of the sex industry and drugs.

Thank you for providing these children with a safe environment where they are encouraged to learn, grow, love God, and just enjoy being kids! Because of you, they can have a future outside of the sex industry, knowing how valued they are and how much Jesus loves them.
