Give a Warm Welcome to the Newest World Help Baby

Kim and her husband welcomed baby Blakely into the world last month. Coming in at 9 pounds and 21 inches long, Harrison Michael Blakely made his appearance on Feb. 3. If you'd like to support Kim and her family as they adjust to life with their sweet baby boy, be on the lookout for an email coming soon to sign up for their meal train!

Get to Know Gracie Snyder

Gracie is one of our fantastic Donor Support Representatives in the Marketing Department. Outside work, she loves to play pickleball, have game nights with her friends, and meet new people! Gracie is also an expert in all things sourdough. If you want to start making your own bread, shoot her a message for some tips and tricks.

Gracie is quite the adventurer, too. Last summer, she went on a safari in South Africa – and she said it was hands-down one of the most incredible experiences of her life. She is currently looking for a skydiving buddy to go with her again soon. If Gracie were on a TV show, she would want it to be The Amazing Race, with her dad as her partner. It certainly sounds like she has what it takes – #GoTeamGracie!

When looking at your Asana task list, it can be overwhelming to determine where to begin ... especially when you can't start a project until a different one is complete. Asana can help you keep track of the order in which things should be done by creating dependencies. Check out this article to learn more!
