

YOUR GIFT OF LIVESTOCK TRANSFORMED LIVES

Thank you for providing the life-changing gift of livestock to people in need this past Christmas!

Goats, cows, pigs, and chickens are more than just animals. For families struggling to get by, they can help break the cycle of poverty forever. Livestock can provide a reliable source of income, add valuable nutrients to someone's diet, and produce fertilizer to grow crops.

Livestock truly is the gift that keeps on giving! Your generosity will change lives for generations to come.

Here are two testimonies to give you a glimpse at the impact you made:

CHARLOTTE: FINDING HOPE

Gifts like yours during the Christmas season helped provide Charlotte with a cow – and it's already making a huge difference in her life!

Charlotte, her husband, and their six children live in an isolated part of Rwanda. Their only source of income is their small farm, but the land is dry and lacks nutrients. As a result, Charlotte couldn't grow enough food to both feed the family and earn an income for other essentials.

Then Charlotte received something she'd never dreamed of – a cow! For Charlotte and her family, owning a cow means they now have a reliable source of nutritious milk. They can also use the milk to make butter, cheese, and yogurt to sell and supplement their income.

But that isn't all. The fertilizer from the cow has improved the health of their land. Now, they can grow more crops to feed their family. Not only are Charlotte's children more well-fed, but she also plans to use the extra income to pay for their education.

“My life will never be the same again,” Charlotte said. “I will be able to support the young ones because of this cow and its produce.”

Thank you for providing people like Charlotte with a way to break the cycle of poverty and provide for their families.

DIEGO: BRIGHTER DAYS AHEAD

Thanks to support from people like you, Diego received a goat to help provide for his family in El Salvador.

Diego has worked hard as a farmer for years to provide for his family. But now that he's over 70 years old, he can't work as much as he used to. And without enough income, he can't provide basic essentials for his household.

That's why the gift of a goat completely changed Diego's life! The milk he gets from his goat is a great source of nutrition for his family. Plus, just like Charlotte, he can make and sell other items like butter, cheese, and yogurt for an additional income.

Diego is also excited about breeding more goats in the future. In fact, he wants to make goat-rearing the primary income source for his household.

“He never before had help such as this,” our partner said. “He's joyful about this opportunity.”

Whether you gave a chicken, goat, pig, or cow, your gift of livestock this past holiday season transformed lives! Thank you for being a world changer and for making such an incredible impact worldwide.

THANK YOU!
